

Call for nominations: ASF–George Molenkamp Thesis Award 2025

This year marks the first edition of the ASF–George Molenkamp Thesis Award, bringing together two important traditions at the Amsterdam Business School. The ASF Sustainable Future Prize and the George Molenkamp Sustainability Thesis Award are being merged to strengthen our recognition of outstanding Master’s theses that advance sustainability research and practice. Both awards share a common driving force: honoring academic excellence in sustainability while fostering meaningful connections between research, education, and practice, e.g. as outlined in the ASF Goals.

Award details

The winning student will receive an award of €1,500 and their supervisor will be recognized with €500. The award is made possible by the A Sustainable Future (ASF) in collaboration with partners.

Eligibility and submission criteria

We encourage submissions of Master’s theses from UvA Economics and Business that meet the following criteria:

1. The thesis topic must fall into one of the broad research themes: business sustainability, corporate social responsibility, and business ethics,
2. The thesis must be completed for one of the Master of Science (MSc) programs offered by UvA EB,
3. The thesis must have been evaluated between 16 July 2024 and 31 August 2025,
4. The thesis must have received a grade of 8 or higher,
5. The thesis should not have been previously nominated by either of the awards.

Submission requirements

When sending submissions, please clearly indicate: 1) The title of the thesis, 2) the grade of the thesis, 3) the name of the student, 4) the student's Master's program and specialization, 5) the name of the supervisor, 6) the date of the evaluation of the thesis, 7) the contact information (email) of the student, and 8) add a PDF of the thesis.
